INSTRUCTIONAL SYSTEMS INC.

SECURITY GUARD PRE-ASSIGNMENT TRAINING

Introduction – This lesson gives an overview of the course and some of the legislation regarding security officer training.

Role of the Security Officer – This lesson covers the duties performed by security officers and specific tasks that must be monitored and reported.

Legal Powers & Limitations – This lesson covers the legal rules governing security officer powers and limitations and outlines procedures with respect to arrest situations.

Emergency Situations – This lesson provides guidance to the security officer in identifying and responding to emergency situations involving personal and public safety.

Communications & Public Relations – This lesson covers the communication process to include pertinent areas of concern such as attitude, demeanor and prejudices.

Access Control – This lesson covers elements of movement and control of persons entering or leaving property emphasizing identification and prevention of crime.

Ethnic & Conduct – This lesson covers attitudes and practices of security officers and details the benefits of having a standard Code of Ethics in place.

Final Examination – This selection is for the final examination required to complete the training program that is based on the content of the other seven lessons. The exam is composed of 47 questions.